POPULATION OF KENTON 8,651, IS ESTIMATE

Survey Credits City with 12.5 Per Cent Gain in Nine Years
INCREASE OF 961
Total for City and Environs Placed at Approximately 10,000

KENTON, Jan. 2.—The population of Kenton has increased approximately 12.5 per cent in the nine years since the last decennial census was made, it is estimated in a survey made by the Newspaper Feature Bureau for the Marion Star.
The present population is placed at 8,651.

The increase represents a growth of 7,690 in 1920 to 8,651 in 1929 or 961 persons. The population of Kenton and environs is estimated at 10,000.

An interesting feature of the survey is the occupational figures. It is estimated that among the 7,300 persons over 10 years of age, 3,730 are workers, 2,920 being males and 600 females.

Analysis of Survey
The survey estimates the number of males in the city to have increased from 3,710 nine years ago to 4,181 at present. In 1920 there were 2,457 males and 2,253 females in this group. At present it is estimated that there are 2,764 males and 2,416 females over 10 years of age in the city.

Nine years ago, according to government census figures, there were 3,120 males and 2,960 females over 10 years of age in Kenton. At present it is estimated that there are 3,510 males and 3,170 females.

In 1920 there were 2,304 males and 2,160 females occupied for gain as compared with 2,920 males and 600 females in 1925.

Back of Estimates
The survey is based on information from local sources giving the enumeration of the 1920 census in factors including growth. Among the factors mentioned is the increase in births and deaths since 1920. This alone amounted to 630.

A 15 per cent increase has been recorded in the rating strength of the city. There has been a 12 per cent gain in the number of children of school age. The number of domestic water consumers has increased 10 per cent. Estimates of a population of more than 8,500 made by Kenton men were also considered in establishing the estimated population at 8,651.

CAKE FOOD?

Argument Over Question Results in Death of Man

CLEVELAND, Jan. 2.—Christ Lazida, 34, died in city hospital here today of a bullet wound inflicted, police say, during an argument as to whether or not cake is food.

According to police, Lazida went into a south side store yesterday and asked the proprietor to give him food. The owner proffered a piece of cake. Lazida said cake wasn't food and demanded something else. When refused he reached for his pocket, according to the story, and the proprietor, fearing that he was reaching for a gun, seized a shotgun and fired a charge into Lazida's neck, mortally wounding him.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The election of Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis, which many people thought was accomplished last November, is really taking place today throughout the country.

In each of the 48 states, the presidential electors meet today and go new president and vice president.

The electors actually and constitutionally choose the president and the vice president.

After they vote, the ballots are forwarded to Washington, and at a joint session of the two houses of congress on Feb. 13 the ballots will be tabulated. Then, and not until then, will the election of Hoover and Curtis really become official.

The cumbersome process is a relic of the days when it used to take many days of stage-coach and horseback travel to reach the capital with the votes.

ARMY PLANE IN AIR 24 HOURS; REFUEL TANKS

"Nurse" Makes Contact with
"Question Mark" Five Times in Day

GIVEN FOOD
Five Pilots Plan To Stay in Air Until Motors
Wear Out

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT,
Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 2.—Its three motors functioning perfectly, the army endurance plane "Question Mark," early today appeared over the field here, almost 24 hours from the time it took off yesterday morning. The plane had been refueled over Delmar near San Diego shortly after midnight for the fifth time. This was not scheduled and enabled the ship to fly long after dawn without refueling of its gas supply.

Manned by a crew of five, the huge plane was refueled by a "nurse" plane at intervals, and hot food was passed to the crew from the attending plane as well.

The transfer of fuel and food is being made over Rockwell Field, San Diego, although another "nurse" plane is held in readiness at El Centro should the weather become foggy or stormy.

It is the intention of the crew of the "Question Mark" to stay aloft until the plane's motors are worn out, or until they become so fatigued that a landing is imperative.

Miniature Plane Is After Record

MARSHALL, Mo., Jan. 2.—Blaine M. Tashiro, Kansas City inventor, pilot with Leonard H. Blumberg, a local pilot, took the air at 8:54 o'clock today in an attempt to set a new record for sustained flight.

The plane was a Barling NB-3 miniature monoplane. The hop-off followed postumpations since Monday due to snow storms and bad weather.
Only 25 gallons of gasoline were carried in the 675 pound plane. An ejector pickup device will be used to refuel at intervals.

Aviatix in Air Over Los Angeles

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT,
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 2.—Miss Robbie Trout, 30-year-old Los Angeles aviatix, took off from here today in an attempt to break the world's endurance record for women.

The crew of the army endurance plane "Question Mark," which was circling over the field at the time, waved a greeting to the girl as she soared into the air. The women's endurance record of eight hours and six minutes is held by Viola Gentry, who established it in New York Dec.
20. Miss Trout, flying a Golden Eagle monoplane, hopes to stay up 12 hours.

BUCKLEY TO ENTER PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

State Treasurer Will Be Arraigned on Indictment Saturday

COLUMBUS, Jan. 2.—"Not guilty" will be the plea of Bert H. Buckley, state treasurer, when he is arraigned in federal court here Saturday to the indictment charging him with counspiring to violate the liquor laws and defraud the government, chiefly by offering bribes, it was learned today.

Although Buckley is admitted to practice before the federal bar he will be represented by counsel when arraigned.
His attorney's name has not been made public.

Buckley and his alleged fellow conspirators, John L. Schrimmer, Cincinnati attorney and former state legislator, and Joseph Sperber, Cincinnati brewmaster, were indicted by the federal grand jury late Monday in its final report to Judge Benson W.
Hough of the federal court.

That the grand jury may be recalled was intimated in the indictments which at various places cited "divers breweries" without revealing names. The district attorney's office here refused to comment on the possibility of the jury being recalled.

RELATIVE IS QUESTIONED IN DEATH PROBE

Police Chief Continues Probe into Shooting of Cecil Calbert

VERDICT HELD UP
Coroner Holds Up Decision Pending Result of Police Inquiry

Hoping to throw new light on the shooting of Cecil Calbert, 28, 1017 West Center st., Police Chief J. W.
Thompson ordered the questioning of a relative of Calbert's at police headquarters this afternoon.

Although continuing his investigation, Chief Thompson believes that Calbert was a victim of a stray bullet fired by a New Year's eve celebrant. If this fact is established every effort will be made by police authorities to apprehend the celebrant.

Killed While Asleep Calbert was shot Monday night while he was asleep at his home. The bullet, which struck him in the right temple, was fired through a window of the residence. Another bullet entered the side of the house.

Verdict in the case is being held up by Coroner R. D. Osborn, pending the outcome of Chief Thompson's investigation.

Funeral services for Calbert will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the W. C. Floyd funeral home. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery.

that time today.

Mrs. D. V. Gallagher, secretary of the club, estimates that approximately 7,500 plates have been sold. About 1,000 plates are expected to be sold within the next few days. The re-

NORTHCOTT READY TO ENTER GUILTY PLEA

Will Be Placed on Trial Do-spite His Newest Purported Confession

RIVERSIDE, CAL., Jan. 2.— Believe, end and calculating, was to play the role of a silent accused today when Gordon Stewart Northcott faces trial as a "murder farm" slayer.

District Attorney Earl Redwine announced that Northcott would be placed on trial despite his newest purported confession made to Los Angeles authorities last night.

Northcott, in a rambling and eccentric statement, indicated he was prepared to plead guilty and again said that he was ready to point out the burial places of his alleged victims.
As a result, officers will probably make another search of the desert today.

Pointing to a map in the hands of investigators, Northcott said:
"You will find the body of Richard West there."

Others were of the opinion that "Richard West" might be a composite picture of all the victims Northcott is believed to have slain.

Although listing witnesses were ready to accuse the 21-year-old Canadian youth, the prosecution will depend largely upon the meagre evidence in an attempt to prove charges that Northcott slew little boys on his Wincville chicken ranch.

AUTO CRASH SENDS TWO TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. A. Van Kleeck and Daughter Injured In Accident Near Waldo

Two persons are in city hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident which occurred about 8 o'clock last night on the Delaware pk., one mile north of Waldo.

The injured are Mrs. Augustus Van Kleeck, 868 South Prospect st., who sustained bruises and cuts, and her daughter Gene, 22, the exact extent of whose injuries have not been determined. She had not regained consciousness at noon today.

Mr. Van Kleeck was not seriously hurt and was taken to his home last night.

Mr. Van Kleeck, an official of the Wilson-Buhlmann Lock Co., was driving towards Marion and failed to observe a car in front of him, which was running without a tail light. To avoid hitting it he swung to the right into the path of a Hudson sedan. The Hudson, bearing a 1925 Pennsylvania license, hit the Van Kleeck car.

The right side of the Van Kleeck car was smashed in and the rear right wheel torn off. Practically all of the glass in both cars was broken.

The Pennsylvania car was badly damaged, the top being smashed and the radiator crushed in.

The occupants of the Hudson, whose identity was not learned, sustained injury according to reports.
Both machines were towed into the Albert Bros. garage for repairs.

APPOINTEES OF MAYOR HAZEN TO KEEP JOBS

No Changes Planned at This Time, Murphy Says in Beginning Duties

OUTLINES SCHEDULE
New Executive To Be at Office Evenings and Saturday Afternoons

Appointees to city offices made by the late Mayor Earl M. Hazen will be retained under the administration of Emory M. Murphy. This was made known by Murphy today.

Murphy assumed his duties as mayor of the city of Marion today by issuing a formal statement in regard to a program for the office during the coming year.

Murphy, who was president of council, fills the unexpired term of Mayor Hazen, who died Saturday.
Murphy was sworn into office Monday but today was the first time he has appeared in the office in an official capacity.

Brief Statement
Mayor Murphy's statement follows:
"S. H. Keller, city clerk, will be in charge of the mayor's office and will take care of all routine business during office hours."

"I will be in the mayor's office from 7 until 8:30 o'clock each evening, Saturday afternoon and at such other times as it will be necessary, until more definite arrangements can be worked out."

E. M. Murphy,
Mayor.

Mayor Murphy stated that he hoped to devote some plan whereby he would be able to spend more time in his office. At the present, however, Keller will serve as acting mayor during the absence of Murphy.

Plans No Changes
In a verbal statement to The Star, Mayor Murphy declared that all present officers would be retained despite rumors to the contrary.

"At the present time," declared the mayor, "there will be no changes in the personnel of any of the offices."

Appointment of a councilman to fill the vacancy created by the advancement of R. F. Prentiss to president of the council will be taken up by council at its next regular meeting.
Council has 80 days in which to make its appointment. If the appointment is not made at the expiration of that time the mayor is given permission to make the selection.

Dog License Regulations To Be Rigidly Enforced in 1929, Warden States

Arrest and Prosecution of Owners Failing To Obtain Tags for Canines, or Permitting Them To Run at Large Is Program for Year Outlined by Rhoades

Dale Rhoades, county dog warden, has a New Year's resolution. It is to go into effect immediately. Rhoades states, and will not be broken.

The resolution concerns the administration of the office with which Rhoades is entrusted. That there will be some radical changes in the administration of the dog warden's duties was revealed in a statement issued today.

Rhoades' resolution, however, will not affect the dog owner who buys a tag for his dog, puts it on the collar and keeps the animal tied between sunset and sunrise. It is the dog owner who does not do these things that Rhoades' resolution will affect.

Means Business

In the first place Rhoades states there will be fewer dogs taken to the pound and more arrests made this year than last. Arrests will be followed by prosecution.

In the past it has been Rhoades' custom when a dog was found without a license or running at large at night, to find the owner and sell him a license in the first case and warn him to keep the animal tied at night in the second place. In the future, however, such cases will result in the arrest and prosecution of the owner of the dog.

The penalty for either offense is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 and costs.

Rhoades also advises Marion county dog owners that it is not his duty to make up and destroy dogs that "are not worth a tag." If any person has a dog of this kind the animal must be disposed of by the owner, the warden states.

Many Without Tags

A check made at the office of the county auditor, where dog licenses are obtained, showed that approximately 1,400 dogs in the county are untagged today. Licenses for 1928 became void at midnight Dec. 31. Owners of all untagged dogs are liable to arrest and Warden Rhoades states that he intends to enforce the state dog law to spirit and letter.

A huge increase in the number and amount of sheep claims resulting from raids on flocks by dogs is responsible for the change in the method of enforcing the dog law. The number and value of sheep killed in Marion county in 1928 reached a new high point and necessitated 20 per cent increase in the price of dog licenses.

In the last year Rhoades' official duties took him over 12,000 miles of Marion county roads. He works on a flat salary of $103 a month and does not receive fees or mileage for his services. During the year he impounded and destroyed 415 dogs. Rhoades can be reached by telephone at 633-K Laffin.

Plan of Operations

All dogs impounded by Rhoades are held for three days. If not released by that time they are sold or destroyed. Notices concerning all dogs impounded are posted in the court house.

Rhoades also states that sheep owners whose flocks have been damaged by dogs must report the loss to him or the board of county commissioners within 48 hours after the damage has been done if the owner hopes to receive compensation for his loss.

Here's Close-up of Boss of "Finest" in New York

Whalen Can Mix Flapjacks. Greet Royalty with Equal Grace

NEW YORK—It is always interesting to contrast a close-up of a personage against a background of the daily news. So often it reveals an entirely different person. For instance, Grover A. Whalen, the boss of New York's police.

You and the rest of the world know him as the owner of the most photographed "topper" in America—a smiling, debonair greeter of reporters, trans-Atlantic fliers, channel swimmers or what have you?

His Hitherto Unknown Side But the new commissioner is far more versatile. He can mix flapjacks, scientifically, catch black bugs with a spinner or bring down a flying mallet with his double-barreled 10-gauge. With a rifle he can get his deer with a bullet through the heart, head or backbone—the proper places to shoot a deer. He is an excellent horseman, an inveterate tenniser and is able to do his friends declare to "beat a job done" against bigger odds than any other man either in or out of politics.

So it isn't surprising that he started off with a jolting reorganization of the Finest that left no doubt as to the existence of an iron hand beneath the velvet glove. It was Whalen's way of "putting out" for an efficient job. Whalen's introduction to a host of various interviewers.

See No Mystery in Job "Police theories? I haven't any," said the commissioner, adding:

"But there's nothing mysterious about the work. It's simply a question of organization, carrying out of one's plans and 'abouting square'."

To the rank and file of the department he uttered but one admonition—"there's a lot of law in the end of a nightstick."

Which may or may not be responsible for the wholesale bag of apples taken by police in the midst of the city's Christmas observance.

The top-hatted police commissioner is 42 years old and was born in the same East Side neighborhood that gave Alfred E. Smith to the state.

636 Building Permits Issued Here Last Year, Official Summary Shows

Increase of 56 Over Total for 1927 Establishes High Mark in 10-Year Period; Next Year's Construction Program Likely To Mount Still Higher, Is Belief

Building in Marion during the year just closed established a record that has not been reached for the last 1927 totalled 680. An increase of 56 permits is thus shown for 1928.

162 for Dwellings

One hundred and sixty-two of the permits issued last year were for new dwellings houses as compared with 127 for 1927. Remodeling dwellings called for 48 permits and 314 were issued to erect new garages, 12 were for public buildings, three for factories, one for a theater, three for churches and 81 for other buildings.

The Palace theater, constructed by the Young Amusement Co., at Gary, Ind., heads the list. This building was erected at an approximate cost of $400,000. The Christian Science church is second in line.

March Leads Month for Building

March heads the months for building. During that period permits were issued for the erection of 10 dwellings and 43 garages. September was the second best month of the year.

Despite the record established in 1928 indications point to the figure being exceeded this year. With the building program authorized by the school board issue to swell the total it is believed that 1929 may set an all-time record for building in the city of Marion.

ON THE Streets of Marion WITH STAR STAFF

STAGE GIFTS

THE incident is more than a week old now, but just that much dearer to the possessor's heart, too. Last Christmas eve, as the curtain went down on "Getting Off the Garter," an usher took the aisle of the Grand theater, approaching the stage with a small, brass-bound cedar chest which he presented to Myrtle Ross. Inside was a genuine parchment scroll, autographed by each member of the company, and an Elgin rectangular wrist watch. The watch is a beauty, of white gold inlaid with black.

When the joy of receiving this gift was somewhat abated, one of the stagehands thrust a big red box at Miss Ross, with the compliments of the entire staff of his fellow workers. One of the actresses' hobbies over which she is most enthusiastic is collecting ivory and ivory of elephants. Inside the box was a large marble elephant, front feet in the air, humped forward, with a clock in the base. Miss Ross is generous in her praises of the stagehands at the Grand theater, and their gift to her of a piece for one of her favorite hobbies touched her deeply.

Altogether, 'twas a wonderful Christmas time on the Grand theater stage.

HAT PROBLEM

WHAT is it, just a modern convenience or a desire to show some new trick? Was some reason or other, women of the city of Marion don't bother to remove their hats, toques, berets, chapeaux, cloches or what have you, when they enter the theater. Some years ago, when puffs and hair piled high on the head were in style, the audiences would have been only too glad to have the women keep their headgear on, but in this day of sleek coiffures, there's no reason for it.

But then again, on the other hand, why remove a close-fitting hat that can't possibly obstruct anyone's view and run the chance of missing a perfectly good job of half-dressing?

CLEAN-UP TASK

NOTHING is more useless than a Christmas tree which has served its time and purpose.

After the novelty has worn off, the family is confronted with the problem of how to dispose of the decoration which brought joy unconfined for at least several days.

By this time, most Marion households have probably managed to get rid of their trees by some hook or crook.

It's a baffling proposition. Would the average Christmas tree be too tough to be split up with an ax and unless the tree is exceptionally small it can't be crammed bodily into a furnace.

As a consequence, many of the discarded yuletide ornaments often end in back yard junk piles until the clean-up season starts after the close of winter, while others are hauled away by the city garbage wagons.

STILL MOIST

PROHIBITION has changed the national state of affairs in some respects and has altered some habits and customs. But it has had little effect upon New Year's celebrations, according to reports of this year's whoopee events in Marion and other American cities.

There appears to be a prevalent belief in many minds that the dawning of a new 12-month cycle can't be fittingly observed without a copious flow of stimulant. With this thought prevailing, Marion's celebration Monday night is generally conceded to have been up to standard forms.

Persons who drink temporarily, if at all, at other times of the year, often go the limit on New Year's eve apparently for no other purpose than to feel important and affluent at least once a year.

SEEKING SAFETY

DESPITE the opening up of Center street and operation of new traffic rules it seems that the people of Marion are waking up to the fact that all is not yet right. Judge William H. Martin tried 68 people in the municipal court recently, all for failure to stop their autos at street intersections. Business men of West Center street are planning to file a new petition asking for more rigid enforcement of traffic laws. A petition asking for a traffic light at the intersection of Center and Center streets was placed before the council. The attitude taken by Clifton Lower when he stated recently, "We do not know who is at fault in this disregard of the speed laws, but we do intend to remedy the situation, if possible," seems to express the view of quite a number of Marion citizens.

Cross-examining a witness is no trifling accomplishment. You have to

TO PLACE CHARGES AGAINST THREE MEN

Two Held in Connection with Disappearance of Orville Child

ORVILLE, Jan. 2.—Kidnaping charges will be filed today against three men held in the city prison here in connection with the disappearance of Melvin Horst, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horst, President of Walter J. Mougey declared this morning after an all-night questioning of the suspects.

The men, Elmer Arnold, his son, Arthur, and his son-in-law, Bascom McHenry, are being held on charges of suspicion, but according to Prosecutor Mougey enough evidence has been procured to warrant the filing of more serious charges.

Melvin disappeared from the street near his home as dusk was falling six days ago. Private detectives expressed their opinion today as follows: "The boy, whether dead or alive, is not in Orville, and in addition, we cannot see sufficient motive for kidnaping." Mougey, however, is of different opinion, and links the disappearance of the child to efforts of bootlegging crews to get revenge on the boy's uncle, Ray Horst, Orville marshal, who has figured in several liquor raids.

THREATENING COLD ENDED QUICK WAY

Relief Began Instantly When Doctor Advised Home Use of Pleasant Hospital Method

Realizing that every common cold may be the forerunner of pneumonia—unless treated properly in time—hospital physicians are advising a pleasant remedy that is ideal for use at home. And numbers of Marion people find that it brings almost instant relief—then quickly drives the cold out of one's system.

Mrs. L. R. Snyder, for instance, had such a stuffy cold she couldn't breathe through her nose and coughed so deep she feared pneumonia. Then her doctor prescribed double strength doses of Ayer's Pectoral—a concentrated mixture of wild cherry, turpentine and other ingredients which have relieved the most extreme hospital cases.

Relief began with the first pleasant swallow. She felt the comforting, healing warmth from her nose passages deep down into her chest. In a few hours she began to get relief from the "frenzied, gripping" feeling and in another day or so, the doctor

REPORTS HELD TODAY

Funeral of Edward Lee Humphreys Conducted at Home

Funeral services for Edward Lee Humphreys, 14, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late home, about nine miles north of this city. The Rev. W. C. Bowman, pastor of the Second Pilgrim mission, was in charge. Burial was made in Houshild cemetery.

"Probably suicide," was the verdict of Coroner H. D. Osborn, after investigation of the death. The boy was found dead at his home Monday. He shot himself, according to evidence in the coroner's inquest, because of his objections to attending school.

They contain an abundance of eucalyptus, (which is considered one of the strongest antiseptics), menthol and the so beneficial borahol, blended so that quick relief is sure if used in time.

It is needless to again call your attention to the fact that these delicious lozenges and sandwiches served at this place, are very beneficial in restoring your lost appetite, and to start building up your general health.

Don't fear flu — fight it!

(Wash hands often with the purifying toilet soap that removes germs)

KEEP flu away by fighting it, not fearing it. Leading health authorities urge. Help protect yourself and your children by taking every precaution against its attack.

Always remember that hands may spread influenza, just as they carry and spread the germs of other serious diseases. Note statement of the U.S. Public Health Service on the danger of hands spreading germs.

For hands pick up all sorts of germs from things you have to touch, unavoidable things that many other hands have touched before yours—door-knobs, car-straps, banisters, money, public telephones.

The Life Extension Institute has compiled seven health rules—listed below—to help protect you and your family against the spread of influenza and other serious germ diseases.

Note especially Rule No. 2 about keeping hands germ-free—one of the most important rules of all, yet so simple to carry out. No extra trouble, no extra expense.

Just wash the hands oftener—always before eating—with Lifebuoy, the toilet soap that removes germs as well as dirt.

Splendid for complexions

Quite aside from its purifying action, Lifebuoy is a delightful toilet and bath soap—wonderfully cleansing, invigorating, fine for preventing odors of body and perspiration—and for keeping complexions clear, smooth and fresh.

But, best of all, Lifebuoy helps protect health. Its mild and abundant antiseptic later removes germs as well as dirt.

Its hygienic scent says "greater protection"

Lifebuoy's reassuring, pleasantly hygienic scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it gives greater protection. Yet it costs no more—probably less than the soap you now use.

You can get Lifebuoy wherever soap is sold. Start using Lifebuoy today as a common-sense health measure.

New President's Individuality To Be Spirit of Next Administration; Stirring Year Is Expected in 1929

Hoover Will Not Follow in Footsteps of Coolidge Leadership

BY GEORGE E. HOLMES, Marion Star Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Even as 1928 was an unusual year in American politics, so will 1929. There are no elections, it is true, but in the American scheme of things politics and government are inseparably woven. And before 1929 has hardly gotten out of its wedding clothes a brand new national administration looks its way to the country and the world under the guidance of Herbert Hoover. This is to say nothing of the similar administrative changes that will take place in more than half the states of the union.

New administrations mean new policies. The mighty patronage machine that grinds out thousands of offices annually will be working overtime throughout much of 1929. Political delays, inherited from the 1928 campaign, must be paid. Political scores from that same contest must be settled. The "right ones" must be rewarded and the "wrong ones" disciplined or punished.

All experiments. Every new administration is, in a sense, a political experiment. The new Hoover administration, that comes into being on the stroke of noon next March 4 is no exception. A new cabinet and a new congress automatically come in with the new chief executive. The cabinet has yet to be chosen. The scramble for those ten highly coveted places is now on and will continue unabated until Mr. Hoover stops it by the announcement of the names of his official family. In all probability this will not take place before March 4. The new congress already has been chosen. Some 28,000,000 voters attended to that on the sixth of last November.

New faces will appear in the cabinet; new faces will appear in congress. And, what is more important, new minds will be set at the solution of governmental problems, some of them untried to politics and the deadly processes of compromise.

Throughout the campaign, the Republican stumpers continually harped on the theme that to elect Mr. Hoover meant a continuation of Coolidge policies. Probably they meant it, and probably it is true—but only to a degree.

Meet New Problems. No president can follow the policies of another president. That is axiomatic.

HERBERT HOOVER

Mr. Coolidge announced upon taking office that he would follow the policies of his predecessor, Mr. Harding. But he didn't. New conditions arose; new problems had to be met, and as time went on, the memory of the tragic death of Mr. Harding it was discernible that Mr. Coolidge was developing his own policies.

Unless the political wisecracks of Washington are very much mistaken, Mr. Hoover will be his own president. Of course, all presidents stand for governmental economy, equal opportunity for all, prosperity for all, and all the rest of the campaign-worn generalities. But they all take different routes to attain those ends.

The common expectation is that Mr. Hoover will develop his own policies, his own method of dealing with men and with problems, very early in his administration. The cabinet that he selects to counsel with him, and the advisers with whom he surrounds himself will afford the first insight into the character of the new administration.

Used To Big Projects. Those who know Mr. Hoover best describe him as an individualist of high degree. His record bears out the description. He has dealt with big projects all his life, but he has dealt with them in his own way. He has always been the responsibility, and has insisted in pursuing during his career that his must be equally the responsibility of a successful business career, are not easily shaken. Mr. Hoover is an individual of strong ideas of what he wants to accomplish and how to go about it.

No individual is he, in fact, that eight years ago he professed not to know whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. That, in American politics, requires a pretty high degree of individuality. He has been on the side of an individualist that he never stood for an elective force until he ran for the presidency.

Thus, although Washington has known him for eight years, the new president comes into authority with the politicians pressing, and with his administration looming in their minds as a gigantic question mark. In eight years in Washington, and throughout the campaign, Mr. Hoover made few speeches. His position on a hundred governmental policies has never been sufficiently clarified as to enable the politicians to pigeon-hole him in their minds.

They know he stands for a high protective tariff, but they don't know how high; they know he is not in favor of repealing the eighteenth amendment, but they don't know his attitude toward modification of the Volstead act or enforcement of prohibition in general. They know he is against the "government in business," but none of them know to what degree in the power industry, for instance.

Upcoming Questions. The question uppermost in the political mind of Washington, if the capital can be said to have a political mind, is whether Mr. Hoover, the individualist, can bring himself to compromise with the politicians of congress sufficiently to get things accomplished. Governmental procedure in Washington is a succession of compromises. Mr. Wilson would compromise in the last years of his memorable administration and so went out of office a defeated and embittered man.

Few coming presidents have ever started out with things in a more rosy state than Mr. Hoover. An overwhelming victory in the election, he carried along with him secure Republican control in both branches of congress. If he can effectively manipulate his majority it would appear on the surface at least, that he will not have much difficulty. But successful manipulation embraces adroit compromising.

The present outlook is for an extra session of the new 71st congress soon after March 4. The western agriculturalists want farm relief; the eastern industrialists want tariff revision upward. Between these two ancient and usually warring forces it appears now that an extra session is unavoidable, however much Mr. Hoover may be averse to it.

May Call Congress. An extra session, if it is called, will be the first that Washington has seen since Mr. Harding summoned the 67th congress into special session to undertake the tremendous problems of reconstruction after the war. It probably will run well into June, for tariff and farm relief are not only highly controversial problems politically, but they are highly technical in their working out.

One thing is definitely and positively known. Mr. Hoover is anxious to get congress off his hands just as soon as possible. Congresses are disturbing to the general business feeling of the country. This is particularly true of congresses that tinker with taxation, tariff and other legislation vital to the business structure of the nation.

This year is to be an important one politically. Folks will be coming in to and going out of office throughout the year. Postmasters out in the forks of the creeks are quaking in their shoes as the new year opens; similarly, many prominent citizens, dreaming of cabinet and ambassadorial posts, are sitting on anxious seats.

DOZEN YEARS OF SUFFERING ENDED; KONJOLA PRAISED

Grateful Lady Happy To Urge All To Try New Medicine That Restored Her Health

MRS. J. C. PAULOSKO

Remarkable, but true, it appears that Konjola is at the very apex of its powers when all else has failed. How frequently this is proved, as in the case of Mrs. J. C. Paulosko, R. F. D. No. 2, Painesville, Ohio. Jubilant over the magnificent results she found in this master medicine, she says:

"Konjola is almost magical; I marvel when I reflect on what this splendid medicine did for me. For twelve years indigestion, kidney and liver troubles and constipation made life miserable; for twelve years nothing helped me. I had little faith, but friends insisted that I give Konjola a chance. I consented, and what a wise thing that was. Four bottles of this astounding compound turned the trick. In one month the ills of twelve years were ended; in one month all my pain and suffering were swept away. Konjola is the champion of all medicines; it must be to take hold of a protracted case like mine and vanquish it in so short a time. I am told that Konjola is the medicine with more than a million friends. Well, it has won another lifelong friend in me."

Konjola is different than any other known remedy in this section. It contains 20 juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of this Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and run-down systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical compound, until now, Konjola is the most highly indorsed medicine that is known in this section.

Konjola is sold in Marion at Stump & Sams Pharmacy and by all the best druggists throughout this section.—Adv.

The Dream of Chicago.

Pictorial in the rotogravure sections of the big city papers presenting the new La Salle Street bridge in panoramic view at the dedication exercises December 20, at which time the $2,050,000 span connecting Wacker drive with the north bank of her river was thrown open to traffic, offered added testimony to the fact that Chicago has a high appreciation of the artistic. No matter what the shortcomings of the big city on Lake Michigan may be in many respects, it may be said of her that she is more progressive in the matter of city beautification than any other great center of population in the land.

Chicago may have her handiwork, her bombards and her gunnery; it may be true that she has had more than her share of beer bums and racketeers; there may have been more civic corruption there in recent years than in any great city in the country; there may have been for years a closer connection between politics and crime than is often met with in any population center, but despite all these handicaps, she has forged steadily ahead in her pursuit of the beautiful. Her parks and boulevards have become subjects for favorable comment throughout the land. They have attracted the praise of notable visitors from foreign lands. Her breathing spots have become things of beauty, graced here and there by tasteful fountains and monuments.
Many pieces of her outdoor sculpture are real works of art. Her public and private buildings show advanced ideas in taste. And now she has taken up the beautification of her river and is spanning it with graceful structures of which the new bridge is a striking example, her idea being to replace the unsightly structures, as soon as opportunity and means permit, with bridges which will conform to the beautification scheme she is following and be a credit to her.

Few rivers coursing through American cities add to their beauty. The American plan in years past has been to pay little attention to their appearance and span them with bridges erected for utility purposes rather than for a combination of the useful and ornamental. Too often bridges over rivers within the limits of our cities have been built merely as means by which to cross the rivers. In respect to city bridges, American cities are far behind many cities of the Old world.

The Seine, by way of illustration, is naturally far from a beautiful river, but Paris has successfully striven to make it presentable, even pleasing, to the eye and has spanned it with bridges which are models for beauty. There is nothing in the way of a structure in the French capital which appeals more to the eye than some of her beautiful bridges, a notable example being the Pont Alexandre III, and the result is that the Seine adds to, rather than detracts from, the general appearance of the city.

Chicago above and beyond all other great American cities has caught the Paris idea of a city beautiful. An element of her citizenship, in the possession of which she is most fortunate, is laboring unceasingly to advance this idea. And unless we miss our guess exceedingly, the time is not far distant when she will be able to realize her dream of being recognized, physically at least, as the Paris of America.

Shipping War Growing Warm.

From London comes the explanation of the action of the Cunard people in putting their transatlantic liner, Caronia, into winter service between New York and Havana, a service which has heretofore been considered American.

The British are said to resent the manner in which American capital has bought up their stock shares and purchased and carried away their art treasures. Britain realizes, it is explained, that she is losing her foreign markets in Latin-America to the United States and beholds her own dominions favoring American products over British. She believes that America has become thoroughly determined to possess a merchant marine which may prove a menace to the supremacy of the British merchant marine, and, feeling thus, she believes the best way to meet the issue is to carry the fight for mercantile supremacy to America. Hence the putting into service of the Caronia in the New York-Havana trade.

More than this, the Cunard people threaten to sue the United States Shipping board in the event that the withdrawing of the President Roosevelt from the transatlantic service and placing her in the New York-Havana service results in material loss to them as a result of the Caronia venture, holding that the Shipping board is using the Roosevelt as a "fighting" ship, which is not permissible under section 11 of the shipping act of 1920 which, in part reads:

"Section 11: That no common carrier by water shall directly or indirectly in respect to the transportation by water of passengers or property between a port of a state, territory, district or possession of the United States and any other such port or a port of a foreign country . . . use a 'fighting ship' either separately or in conjunction with any other carrier through agreement or otherwise.
The term 'fighting ship' in this act means a vessel used in a particular trade by a carrier or group of carriers for the purpose of excluding, preventing or reducing competition by driving another carrier out of such trade."

It is pointed out that the Cunard line would have difficulty in carrying out its threat, as the government can not sue without permission of congress and its only recourse would be to the court of claims and then with the permission of the government. But even so, the policy of the Shipping board in introducing a fighting ship into the situation is decidedly questionable.

Be the result what it may, the war for the New York-Havana trade is on. The American lines have cut fares twenty-five per cent to keep business from the Caronia and the Roosevelt has been loaned to the Ward line and will make her first sailing for Havana Saturday. To complicate the situation still further, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, of Japan, has given notice that four of its liners will make Havana a port of call hereafter between New York and Kobe, the French line has allocated a couple of ships to the service and the Royal Spanish Mail line and the Red Star line, one each.

It just seems as though all things are working to make travel to the island of Cuba difficult and break down the domination of our good Americans to avoid the snares of Demon Rum.

Women gained nineteen seats in state legislatures last fall, making 115 women lawmakers in thirty-eight states. There's no ing on they'll soon be having us mere men with our backs to the wall.

The League of Nations has invited Ellhu Root to be one of the jurists to study revisions of the statutes of the International Court of Justice. It was the suggestion of this very distinguished American that saved the court in the first place. If the League of Nations will stop looking around and leave the revision to him, it will come pretty close to getting a code which will be a model of its kind.

Mrs. Edna Hall, of St. Louis, has been removed as guardian for her brother, twenty-year-old Clarence Terhune, the first Zeppelin "stowaway," on his complaint that she entered into a contract giving forty per cent of his earnings to his manager, who thereupon gave her $2,000 with which to buy herself a new car. The press of the United States was wise in looking upon that stowaway story with suspicion.

Appropos of the arrival in New York of the splendid new Italian motorship, Vulcania, it may be said that she and the Saturnia, of the same line, sharp with the Leviathan the distinction of being equipped with a ship-wide telephone system. The Leviathan has been in service for many years, but only two of the new steamships touch the many conveniences she possesses since her reconstruction following the war by Gibbs Brothers.

The movie picture business is soon to feel the impress of high art. The average moving picture actress arriving from abroad has her picture taken, with legs crossed, in some conspicuous position upon the deck of the incoming steamship, but it remained for Miss Terry Sugar, the "popular Hungarian actress," who arrived on the De Grasse a few days ago, to display real genius by posing with her skirt rolled up to her hips.

Mario Carli, editor of the ultra-Fascist newspaper, Impero, gives notice to the aristocratic women of Italy that, if they do not soon bear down to their husbands instead of dlecting and spending their time in beauty shops to retain slender figures, Premier Mussolini will be compelled to use extreme measures. "Every one of our women," Editor Carli says, "ought to give the country one son at least every two years. Failure to do so will be equivalent to driving our men to polygamy, and that is against Fascist morality." Benito is certainly a wonder.

Not only is he going to boost the birth rate, but regulate sex as well.

UNEMPLOYMENT WILL BE HIS FIRST PROBLEM.

How the Heart Acts.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
If you live to be seventy, your heart will beat 2,500,000,000 times, almost 40,000,000 times a year. I can't tell you offhand what quantity of blood is pumped during a lifetime. But it is a great river.

How can the heart keep on, hour after hour, day after day? Why doesn't it break down from sheer weariness?

From early times it has been customary to divide the day into three equal parts: Eight hours for labor, eight hours for recreation, eight hours for sleep and refreshment.

This is the pretty general acceptance of the idea that eight hours of work is the outside limit of what should be undertaken. If you were to stick to this rule, it is probable your life would be prolonged.

With this division of time in mind, what does the heart do? It is interesting to find that this organ works almost exactly one-third of the time, leading the other two-thirds.

I stand amazed at the perfection of nature's works. It is impossible for man to suggest improvements in the machinery of the body which is properly used.

It isn't fair to the heart for you to live such a life that its pulsation is materially above the average of that seventy beats per minute. At the average rate, the heart has ample time between pulsations to rebuild its tissues and to renew its energy.

Suppose there is some physical condition that results in a constant heart rate of 100 or 105 per minute? You can see that this reduces the rest period very materially. Instead of working a third of the time, it is increased fully one-half.

Comparing this to normal labor it is the same as a man working twelve hours out of the twenty-four.

If the pulsations are doubled the average number, beating along at the rate of 140 per minute, then the poor old heart works twice as much as it needs. This is the same as if the man at manual labor worked eighteen hours out of twenty-four.

You know the man is not born who can work day in and day out, year in and year out under such pressure. Neither can a heart continue forever to work at such speed.

Rapid pulse is rather a common symptom.
Please bear in mind that it may be caused by some condition entirely apart from the mechanism of the heart itself. It is the nervous system that is most likely to be out of order. In consequence, the brake is off the heart, control of its speed and regularity is temporarily lost.

Of course the rate of seventy beats which I have mentioned is the average rate of heart pulsation. It may be eighty or eighty-five per minute and yet be regarded as "normal." It may be as low as sixty or even lower, and not be a sign of disease.

If your heart suddenly develops rapid action or, in any event, if it beats so fast as to disturb or worry you, talk with your doctor about it. He will advise you and, if need be, prescribe for your ailment.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

M. K. T. W. Q.—Do you think I could inherit near-sightedness after having perfect eyesight for seventeen years, or do you think it was caused from overwork?

A.—This condition was probably caused by over-study and near work. Proper fitting glasses should help to correct this defect.

A. F. Q.—What should a man of forty, five feet eight inches tall weigh?

2.—What is the most vital organ in the body?

3.—What causes high blood pressure?

4.—When there is no pain or ache, is this a sign of perfect health?

A.—No should weigh about 155 pounds.

2.—The heart.

3.—Faulty diet, failure in kidney functioning, and constipation are all factors. For full precise details send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

4.—Not necessary.

M. A. W. Q.—My son of eighteen is troubled with enuresis. What would you advise?

2.—What causes one to bite the nails and how can this trouble be overcome?

A.—Be sure there is no kidney condition which may be responsible. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

3.—Nervousness is the usual cause. Painting the nails with tincture of arsenic should be helpful in breaking the habit.

F. E. G. Q.—What is the cause of my heels aching and my ankles being cold all the time?

A.—Your trouble may be due to poor circulation or rheumatism. For particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THOSE LINCOLN DOCUMENTS AGAIN.
The Dispatch expressed the opinion, some three or four weeks ago, that the very first assault on the authenticity of the alleged Lincoln documents printed in the Atlantic Monthly had proved their spuriousness beyond any hope of a reversal of the verdict. The editor of the Atlantic pleaded for a suspension of judgment until the rest of the documents should have been printed, but the second installment has only made the impeachment more convincing.

In an alleged letter of Ann Rutledge, printed in the January installment, she thanks Lincoln for sending her a copybook of Spencer, the well-known teacher of penmanship; but the first book of Spencer was not published until thirteen years after the death of Ann Rutledge. One of the letters attributed to Lincoln refers to "Kansas," before any such territory had been organized and placed on the map. Martha Cameron, one of the alleged writers of letters in the collection, writes about Martha Calhoun nine years before the real Martha Calhoun was born. At least two of the persons appearing in these documents have been proved with reasonable certainty never to have existed, or at least, not to have been known to their own families if they did exist.

All this shows that the collection of documents supposed to give important new information about Lincoln is not merely a literary forgery, but a forgery so clumsily executed that its acceptance as genuine by the editor of a magazine of high standing is little less than amazing. If these documents are the work of any person now living, it is certainly to be hoped that the identity of that person may be established, in order that he may feel the scorn which such attempts at deception deserve.—Columbus Dispatch.

SAD NEWS FOR SCOTTLAND.
The conviction of a New York broker of conspiracy to transport liquor illegally, which followed a telephone transaction with his bootlegger, will make thousands of respectable citizens "furious to think." They are likely to wonder how long it will be before the courts join purchaser and vendor in illegal liquor sales, without reference to transportation.

As Judge Kirkpatrick understands the national prohibition act, where transportation is not required a purchaser does not violate the law, nor can he be convicted of aiding or abetting any illegal sale; but he adds that transportation may contemplate "simply the delivery of the thing sold." Another judge may define delivery as "leaving the goods in the possession of the buyer," simply slipping a pint from pocket to pocket in the alley, or handing a glass of hooch over the counter of a speakeasy.

As every sale involves delivery, a broad and inclusive interpretation of that term opens for the scoundrels a deep vista of unpleasant possibilities.
And if the courts can interpret transportation and delivery to suit the needs of the case, what is there to prevent them from cutting out these legal defenses by holding that every sale necessarily involves two parties, vendor and purchaser, who are equally essential to the commission of the crime and therefore equally liable to the penalty fixed for it?

Judge Kirkpatrick's ruling, if it is sustained by the supreme court, will lighten those who want prohibition made effective or abandoned and discomfort for those who have aided and abetted the violation of the Volstead act without the thought, any risk of fine or imprisonment.

There is a contrasting relief from the Ten-

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.
New York, Jan. 2.—The hardest boiled strip in the so-called Tenderloin lies between Forty-Fifth and Fiftieth street, bounded on the west by Tenth avenue and on the east by Sixth avenue, according to those making a study of racketeering and other gyp activities.

It is in this area most of the new versions of the double-rigging on the circus lot, are exploited—where the wise ones learn they are not so wise. It is the milieu of the night cab drivers who "promote" drunks in the take points for a percentage of spoils.

Here are beauty parlors, millinery and shoe shops, speakeasies, cellar cabarets, massage rooms, sandwich salons, chop suey and chili joints that last through the day but swarm with activity at night. Many are respectable but the majority are outfitted solely for the sucker trade.

Innumerable shady hotels, filled with kimonos and their shabby white poodles, offer a perfect haven for those whose lives are concentrated to halving the apple at Broadway's pagan feasts. To the stranger their hospitality is sullen. Wilson Mizner observed their only rule was that guests must mop up the blood.

Almost every morning at dawn in this district will be found a studded stay-on being ploated to the curb fumbling for something or other they can use for money for a taxi ride to their hotels. They have had their touch of high life in the Forties and, O boy, what a headache.

A new sort of lady has become an adroit cave worker. She is no longer in evening gown as a part of the establishment. She is to all appearances only a lonely gal out for a little slumming. With a sly wink or som-such subtlety she makes her acquaintances.
And giddap, the party is on.

She gets half of what she spends. It is estimated every night there are some 10,000 loose gentlemen reaching to kick up their heels and use the lights, and so home more misunderstood than ever. These are the lads for whom the gyp joints bait the traps. The only safe way is to travel in groups. And drink mineral water.

GERMANY ON SOUND
FINANCIAL BASISReport of S. Parker Gilbert Made Public: Well Able To Pay, Is Assertion

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The annual report of S. Parker Gilbert, agent for reparations payments under the Dawes plan, which states that Germany is now on a sound financial and economic basis and is well able to pay the annual installments of about $600,000,000, will play an important part in the new reparations negotiations, it was understood here today.

This report was made public late Tuesday. It summarizes an analytical study of Germany's industrial and fiscal position. It revealed that Germany's national debt is only $2,000,000,000, which is regarded as comparatively small in view of the burden imposed upon that nation by the great war.

Incidentally, the report criticizes the Berlin government for its failure to inaugurate more drastic economies in state expenditures, indicating that such retrenchments are possible.

Data contained in the report will be used by the allied experts in combating Germany's contention for decreased reparations payments. It is currently believed.

SAYS HAY FEVER
CAN BE PREVENTED

Scientist Suggests Inoculation of Sufferers with Pollen Grain Extracts

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Scientific research has revealed that hay fever—that annoying affliction of the mucous membrane of the eyes and nose that annually makes life miserable for millions of American sufferers—can be prevented by inoculation.

This information was disclosed today by Dr. R. P. Wiedehouse of New York, one of the noted scientists attending the seven-day session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"Hay fever can be prevented by inoculating the sufferers with extracts of pollen grains which cause the infection," Dr. Wiedehouse declared. "Although the symptoms of hay fever belong to summer, now is the time to take preventive treatment. Specific tests to learn the plants which cause people to contract hay fever need to be made in winter or early spring."

Dr. Wiedehouse has been observing under the microscope at the New York Botanical garden the peculiarities of the minute dust-like pollen grains which cause hay fever and this morning informed International News Service of the result of his investigations.

"Hay fever is not a fever, and it is not caused by hay," said Dr. Wiedehouse. "The real cause of hay fever is the fine dust-like pollen grains of various plants that float around in the air, get into people's noses and set up irritation."

"The fragrance of flowers, the smell of hay and a number of other things have been blamed for the cause of hay fever. Fragrant flowers do seem to aggravate hay fever, but do not cause it."

WORK REGRETS

G. O. P. Chairman Doesn't Want to Appear as "Adviser"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Published reports that he favored inclusion of a woman in the Hoover cabinet, and that he was partial to Mrs. Alva T. Herr's appointment, brought a brand of denial today from Dr. Robert Wood, chairman of the Republican national committee.

"I regret," a statement from him said, "the publicity given to conjectures attributed to officials of the party that has been given to probable appointees of the next administration."

"Those who know our next president best thoroughly understand, because of his very wide acquaintance and independent mind, that he needs no reference to advice on appointments, and that of a certainty, no one has been so designated."

This last paragraph was interpreted to publish reports that Dr. Wood was to be a sort of "national referee" in the new administration.

Friends of Mrs. Herr, vice chairman of the national committee, and of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, have been engaged for weeks in promoting cabinet appointments for them.

BY JACK
"Applesauce" with Myrtle Reed, Billy Igle, Ernest Sharpsteen, Alma Coble, Mae Kirby, Jack Gordon and Dick Dickinson. At the Grand all this week.

CLICKETY-CLICK-CLICK! That's the way this group of players parading under the name of the Myrtle Reed Players do their stuff. They bring the actor's great hope of Hamlet to the stage about and do their comedy—yes, maybe low comedy, but comedy they do, adding chuckles and helping us live. It's "Applesauce" this week. And, no matter how you serve it, it's applesauce.

"The Players do 'Applesauce' as well as they have done anything. It's in plays like this and 'The Family Upstairs' that they seem to be at their best."

"APPLESAUCE" is another of those domestic comedies—they are their laughs out of those little difficulties and troubles that are found in most of us and our inner circles.

Here it's a case where the daughter happens out and marries against the parental will. She breaks her engagement to the suitor and takes up bed and board with the lad whose fine suggests the title of the current play.

It's like the life of the field—neither does he spin now—now just how old that goes. Anyway, he doesn't. But, they marry and their difficulties in making the long green grow where the lone nickel once held forth occupies the third act. The weakest moment in the play is the final curtain. Not really as pathetic as the rest of the play.

But this isn't applesauce. "Applesauce" is O. K.

THERE are seven roles in this comedy and they are done corking well. There are two July parts—one that of the gossip, husband-bored neighbor woman, Jennie, done to perfection by Alma Coble. One wouldn't know the short-dressed, kid-like Alma of "The Family Upstairs."

The other belongs to Billy Igle as the fly-like lad who just won't work. A college graduate with little ambition—what a bowl of applesauce he serves!

Ernest Sharpsteen is so gentle as the husband that you would like to clout him—so, he must accomplish the end he seeks. One couldn't ask more. Mrs. Reed is as capable as usual as the first who'd rather hear her husband give her a bit of praise than have chicken for dinner. Mae Kirby is the bewildered mother, Jack Gordon as the rambunctious uncle and Dick Dickinson as the rejected suitor.

SUCCESSFUL METHODS FOR COMBATING FLU AND COLDS

Follow These Rules—Do Not Fool With a Cold—Use Tried Safe Methods

Look out for colds—even mild colds in the head and throat. Don't let them get down into the chest and lungs. Don't expose yourself to damp or wet weather. Don't go out if you are feeling sick. Influenza, grippe, pneumonia or other serious sickness often come from colds.

THE DANGER

Cold, "Flu" and Pneumonia Germs multiply by the millions and attack the weak and the strong alike. Watch out for colds, they weaken your resistance. The greatest danger lies in that "simple cold." Kill it off quickly.

It is of vast importance to clean out the entire intestinal tract, upper and lower bowels regularly. Keep the kidneys well flushed and freshen and strengthen the blood.

Experience of 1918

The experience of the 1918 epidemic showed that one of the best and simplest treatments was to take a steam-bath and cupful of Bulgarian Herb Tea. Why take any chances, why not be prepared to fight off your cold or "flu"?

"The right thing to do now is to go to your druggist, get a box of Bulgarian Herb Tea. Kill off your cold. It will heat up the chilled blood, increase the circulation and rid the bowels and intestines of poisons and germs. Every family will find Bulgarian Herb Tea (purely vegetable) a great blessing to have on hand in this time of need. Keep your system clean all winter.

See your druggist at once. Your health—perhaps your very life—may depend upon taking this simple precaution. Costs but a few cents. If you have had the flu or a bad cold already, watch out for a recurrence. A cupful of Tea twice a week is your protection against attacks—Adv.

EAGLES WIN OVER WAPAK SQUAD

POWERFUL OFFENSE SHOWN BY LOCALS IN FAST CONTEST

Marion Team To Play Ohio University Five Here Thursday Night

SHOWING the most powerful of offensive strength of the season, the Marion Eagles last night trounced the Wapakoneta team, 29 to 22. The contest was played in a new arena at Wapakoneta.

The locals failed to get going in the first five minutes of play, trailing 10 to 2. At the half the Eagles had overcome the only lead held by Wapakoneta and were out in front 12 to 11. In the last half the local attack stepped out gradually, running at the score until the final whistle. Although Wapakoneta has a tough team it was no match for the Eagles as they played last night.

Thursday night in Star auditorium the Eagles will be back home playing the Ohio University quintet at 8:15 o'clock. Taylor will be back at his old pivot position for the game.

This contest is expected to prove the largest drawing card of the season. The two teams will line up as follows:

Eagles	Pos	Ohio U.
Payne	11'	Burke
Holzer	11'	Kot
Jaylor	10'	Primmer
Applegett	10'	Thur
Bacon	10'	Warshawer

FREAK PLAY SENDS CALIFORNIA ELEVEN TO DEFEAT, 7 TO 8

Riegels Dashes 70 Yards Toward Wrong Goal Line in Contest

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2.—Foot ball for the current season was laid to rest here yesterday with a peculiarly violent wake.

In one of the most weird games of this or any other season, Georgia Tech by defeating the University of California 8 to 7, clinched its claim to national honors and the same time gave western aspirants a real southerner's look on the nose.

In view of the astounded feat of Ray Riegels, California center and captain, who today is a movement about today to appoint an official referee for the California team and perhaps a compass or two.

When Riegels fell up a loose ball on Georgia's 70-yard line, and went into back motion until he was tackled by one of his own team mates on his own six-inch line, he wrote one into the football book that will probably remain there for many a day.

This remarkable run left the 70,000 spectators absolutely flabbergasted. Nothing like it has ever been witnessed at a game of major importance.

The ball was fumbled by Thomas, son who had just played around the end for a nice gain. Riegels was up to the ball like a flash and then he suddenly emerged from a whiff of players and struck out like a whippet for his own six.

On and on he flew. The notes of the spectators merely said it was a good thing that the referee was not a Californian. Riegels was a flash and then he suddenly emerged from a whiff of players and struck out like a whippet for his own six.
